This is your opportunity to own a cozy one-bedroom property situated on 1112 sq meters of land with a General Residential Schedule 1 Zoning. The property and land will appeal to a variety of different buyers. A young couple could look at renovating and extending the existing home. While builders and developers will be looking at renting out the house as they apply to build multiple townhouses subject to council approval. Inside, you'll find a fully equipped kitchen, a comfortable living area, and a spacious bedroom with an ensuite/bathroom. Outside, the property offers a carport with a garage and workshop. Extras include an outdoor room currently used as a spare bedroom but would also make an excellent home office or studio, solar panels, a water tank and a shed. With easy access to all the local amenities, it's an ideal spot to call home. See for yourself and book an inspection today.
