Telegherry Schoolhouse was established by AA Company in 1890. Historical Stroud was originally established as a farming district and named due to the beautiful farmland and valley views after the Cotswold in England. This beautifully restored house set on 5 acres is your typical Escape to the Country; an ideal bed and breakfast or your dream country property. Stunning property features include:-
- Original Blackbutt and Tallowood timber floors throughout
- 3 large bedrooms with renovated country style bathroom
- Headmasters study is a feature off the enclosed sunroom
- Separate lounge room
- Country kitchen and dining - original feature fireplace with stove is a standout
- Opening French doors to outdoor living looking over the farm land
- The timber verandahs are a must to relax watching the sun rise over the Valley
- The 5 acres is ideal to run a few livestock as its fully fenced
- The owner has established cottage gardens with vegetable patches and fruit trees amongst the character lockable shed
On inspection you will be introduced to a lot more stories on the history of Telegherry – this really is a wonderful property.
