While honouring the home's architectural pedigree, this freestanding classic has been recreated from top to bottom with a classic contemporary aesthetic that rings true to its early 1900s origins. A deep setback affords a sense of privacy while a spacious flow-through layout makes for easy living with a landscaped north-east facing garden at the rear that's bathed in sunshine. Every detail has been carefully selected for its quality and timelessness with herringbone motifs unifying the interiors and a custom kitchen as the social heart of the home. In the heart of the Inner West nestled in the middle of restaurants, bars and parks in neighbouring Petersham, Summer Hill, Marrickville and Leichhardt. Around the corner from Petersham Public School, this is a perfect spot for families with every convenience footsteps from the door and potential to reconfigure back into the original three-bedroom layout as well as scope to develop the attic and add a level (STCA).
