Own your own piece of history in the quiet country town of Marnoo. This grand double brick former Masonic Lodge was built nearly 100 years ago with the foundation stone being laid on the 22nd of March 1924. Set on half an acre this now residential home has many of its original features including 14ft ceilings with ceiling roses, original light fittings and double glazed windows. More modern features include a large woodheater, ceiling fans and security cameras. The entry and kitchen have new floors while the rest of the building has the original floorboards. Continue the renovation in your own style and enjoy friendly country living in your one of a kind home.
