The stunning success of this welcoming home's architect-designed renovation not only adds elegant contemporary spaces to its charming original proportions, it also creates seamless flow from indoors to out. The combination of period appeal and present-day allure defines dimensions that deliver fabulous five bedroom, three bathroom flexibility where two bedrooms with ensuites include an elevated main bedroom with its own retreat/study, balcony and city views. A living/dining domain of significant flair illustrates the indoor-outdoor focus by linking effortlessly to the garden sanctuary and a secluded deck featuring an integrated spa. Stone benches, a comprehensive suite of Miele appliances, soft closing cabinetry and a butler's pantry reflect the open-plan kitchen's refinement in a home where ducted heating and cooling ensure constant comfort. Solar panels, security cameras, excellent storage, laundry chute, plus convenient double carport and rear access to Strachan Place further enhance a superbly situated home, walking distance from The Strand, Williamstown shops and cafes, the train station, schools and sports facilities.
