The home features a spacious timber deck overlooking the back yard, which can be accessed from the kitchen. The interior includes a kitchen, a lounge area, a sunroom and two bedrooms. The home is partially air conditioned (kitchen, living area and main bedroom - split systems). Down stairs is plenty of room for storage, a laundry and carport, all of which are secure with locks. The local council provides various services such as waste collection, road maintenance and the area is also covered by the postal service which includes direct mail delivery. The property's location offers convenience as it is only a short drive to the Innisfail Central Business District, where you find shops, eateries, medical facilities, hospital and schools. Additionally, the Cairns International Airport is only 80km away, making it easily accessible. This home is a versatile choice suitable for various types of buyers. Investors can benefit from strong rental returns, while first time homebuyers might find it appealing due to its features and location. It could also be a good option for those looking to down size and enjoy a comfortable living environment. Overall the property's elevated position, spacious deck and proximity to amenities make it a promising option for potential buyers.
