The classic vintage charm of this freestanding 1920s bungalow is balanced by a modern upgrade where character, light and style all come together perfectly. It offers a generous and bright home with a user-friendly single-level layout that embraces easycare living with large-sized interiors and ultra-private outdoor areas. The property sits gracefully on a prime corner allotment and represents an excellent buying opportunity for those seeking a freshly styled period home on Earwood's signature street.- Occupying a deep 455sqm corner block with two street frontages- High ornate ceilings, polished timber floors and many original details- A generous layout featuring separate living room and dining area- Contemporary kitchen with good storage and integrated appliances- A deep back garden includes a private lawn and covered BBQ patio- Three double bedrooms, two bathrooms and an internal laundry- Auto garage with attic storage plus a carport with side street access- A short stroll to the heart of Homer Street's cafe and dining scene
