Instantly captivating due to its character, entirely enticing because of its location, this dynamic duplex style residence is exceptional from every angle, appealing from any perspective. External lines that evoke their era introduce renovated internal spaces of significant style and surprising size, including a dedicated entrance hall and separate living and dining area, each featuring beautiful dark polished hardwood floorboards. The dining domain's bi-fold doors create a seamless link to a backdrop defined by under-cover decking and low-maintenance landscaping while the contemporary kitchen's café windows - and separate access to the deck - add to the alfresco allure. A renovated bathroom graces each level of a design where two upstairs bedrooms are accompanied by a central study zone and a light-filled additional living area or third bedroom with a brilliant view over Point Gellibrand parkland to the bay beyond. Secure garage. Two minutes' walk to Williamstown station.
