Positioned in Veterans Row, Westbury is this exceptional building allotment measuring just over one hectare (2.5 acres). The location is a comfortable 25 minute commute to Launceston. The quaint English inspired township is rich with charm and all the facilities you could ever hope for including a large modern IGA supermarket, doctors' surgeries, chemist, Primary School, church, rural supplies and various cafes and places to relax. Building your dream home at 57 Veterans Row will provide you with all the benefits of a country lifestyle, stunning mountain and rural views and the privacy only acreage can provide, and all of this for a price similar to that of a standard building block in or around Launceston. Features of the block include:

- Fully fenced with a new entrance and farm gate, the paddocks are suitable for livestock, horses or to contain the family pets
- Small stable and stockyards
- Dam onsite, ideal for stock water and irrigating your dream gardens
- Beautiful house sites
- Electricity supply available from infrastructure on Allotment Parade
