Step out of your door and slide your boat into the tranquil waters of Norfolk Bay, where you can catch fresh Flathead for dinner. And if you're craving bigger fish, a quick five-minute drive to Eagle Hawk Neck opens up the vast expanse of the open seas. Nestled on an easy-care block with minimal garden maintenance, this three-bedroom home offers ample time for leisure activities. Inside, a spacious lounge adorned with electric heating seamlessly flows into a cozy dining nook and a kitchen boasting abundant cupboard space. Outside, convenience awaits with a large tank providing fresh water, a storage shed, and a carport. Picture yourself unwinding on the front veranda, basking in the hues of sunset after grilling your freshly caught fish on the barbecue. The property is currently being used for Airbnb at $125.00 per night. Taranna is an undiscovered Tasmanian gem, is known for its natural beauty and proximity to the pristine and sheltered waters of Little Norfolk Bay. Experience a peaceful, rural and seaside ambiance while remaining conveniently close to surf beaches and boat ramps. Only a 5-minute drive to ocean or bay fishing and public boat ramps, this location is a haven for outdoor enthusiasts. Taranna has its own Jetty and boat club.
