If it's the 'best of the best' you are looking for with your next move then please put this one on your "must view' list. This high quality, unique design is positioned in a cul de sac of like properties, is only the beginning. The living areas, and there are two, are both spacious and while in an open environment, they also allow for segregation. The kitchen, is as spectacular as it is functional with simply the best of appliances, fittings, and fixtures. The designer has moved away from the standard, completely open plan of the kitchen, dining, and living area to allow some discretionary space around those areas, but still feel a part of who and what is happening. The second living area is an ideal media spot or another bedroom. Huge windows in your key areas create massive natural light. Both bathrooms are of the highest quality and extra comfort of ducted heating and cooling complete the picture. The main bedroom is a terrific size with an ensuite to match and has direct access to one of no less than three private deck areas. The trend continues outside with superbly landscaped gardens, those three independent decks which offer privacy and range from entertaining family and friends to simple quiet time when you are looking for your own personal space. A 5-kilowatt solar panel system ensures minimal power bills and you now have a brief summary of what the home has to offer. The photos only tell half the story. This needs a personal inspection.
