Purchasing an established property is one thing, but acquiring vacant land provides the freedom to create and construct a home that's purely, perfectly yours. This tempting allotment of some 688m² is the setting for precisely such a project, ideal for first home owners who want to see their first home built rather than merely bought! Quiet yet convenient, on a sub-division that is proving its popularity with families who recognise all the advantages of a Riverside address, this inviting site is reached by an internal drive and offers the added attraction of pleasing outlooks as well as pure potential. Make plans for a home, STCA, that will meet all your needs for the present and the future in a location where the lifestyle prospects are complemented by proximity to the Windsor Community Precinct, Riverside High School, shopping options and the city. Vision, creativity and ambition will clearly result in a residence that you will call your own in a way that only a freshly delivered design can be!
