What our vendors love:"Although we have updated and lovingly maintained our home over the years, we have loved the layout of our home since the time we built it - we have never needed to extend or change anything structural. It just works and offers fantastic space for the family. We love the private rear position of our home that not only basks in the northern sun but enjoys complete privacy with no rear neighbours. I also love the unique windows in the kitchen and ensuite that wrap in glass and are wonderful for herbs and plants."
