Within City limits and equidistant to just about everything! In every direction, you feel connected. Pasadena and Mitcham shopping complexes are close, a bus ride to the city is around the corner, Flinders University and Hospital, and the peaceful environment of the Shepherds Hill recreation reserve are all so convenient. If you are searching for a home that is easy to live in and not too large or too small, where you can tap into simple potential to make it your very own, and still enjoy a backyard - then 6 Tafquin Street presents a great buying opportunity and an investment in your future. With a delightful garden frontage, this solid brick home was built in 1977. A handy feature is the drive-through garage to a triple bay workshop-garage at the back of the allotment - for the tradie, hobbyist, or that classic car, having a set-up like this can be hard to find. The land measures 710sqm, and provides for a surprise backyard setting. It feels private and enjoys a slight elevation with big sky-views. An open lawn area and surrounding gardens take advantage of the warm winter sunshine, there is a corner to grow the veggies, and again - so much potential! You don't feel closed in, and with just the right amount of space, you can keep it simple or garden to your hearts content. Under the front porch is a nice spot for a small table & chairs, and where you can enjoy pleasant front yard aspect and display your favourite pots. Inside, the floorplan is practical and spacious with two separate living areas, three bedrooms and two bathrooms!- Having a formal entry is always preferred, it has good storage too.- The lounge is warmed by a working oil heater and feels cosy and roomy at the same time.- An adjacent formal dining room complements the lounge, but could also serve as a media-home-office space. - The original kitchen is in good condition and is open plan to an everyday dining and family room - both the formal dining and family room have sliding door access to a paved pergola. - The main bedroom looks out to front yard gardens and feels private at the front of the home - it has an ensuite and walk-in-robe. Bedrooms two and three have built-in storage, they share a main bathroom and ideally a separate toilet. #6 is made of that good old fashioned solid brick quality on a concrete slab. It is in original 1977 condition and presents well. But think of having some fun with your own thoughts and ideas - now or over time - and really make it your own! Whether you are a young family, a couple downsizing, on your own, or are investing in real estate - with eyes on the future, #6 Tafquin Street is great buying. Make it Yours!
