With five bedrooms and four bathrooms there is lots of room to move in this older style City Beach House. So close to the beach that you can hear the waves landing the sand of the beach nearby. The house features raked ceilings, timber windows, solid Jarrah beams, an Italian marble mantelpiece and sweeping staircase with wrought iron balustrading traversing a double height entry foyer. There is garaging for up to four cars as well as a large cellar and workshop. Similarly a huge, tiled, concrete swimming pool, with the kitchen, family living rooms and paved colonnade style verandah which overlook it. With a modern security alarm, formal lounge and dining rooms, plus kitchen, family meals and living areas which flow through timber bi-folds to a generous study. A guest bedroom also shares this level with facilities en suite, the adjacent laundry being huge. Second storey accommodation consists of four more bedrooms and three bathrooms - the main bedroom with ensuite and walk-through robe. Each bedroom enjoys access to a shared full width balcony with panoramic ocean views to Rottneest Island.
