It's widely known that only the finest estates grace Milan's lush Stirling mile, and this eloquent design proves it. Deeply set with a tapestry of textural gardens, this bespoke art house out-lifestyles them all offering luxurious living and entertaining impact. Expertly crafted by boutique builder, Ralph Winkler, dedicating his skills to barely 3 homes a year, this residence gracing 4 bedrooms, 4 living rooms, and 3.5 bathrooms sets an impeccable benchmark that's ridiculously easy to live in. The drive in alone is unparalleled poetry, yet the home's captivating profile can never prepare you for the epic gallery foyer, 3.3m ceilings, the tranquil garden-framing library, or the event host's cellar, butler's wing, and elaborate kitchen with a feature AGA stove. From the exquisite modern country themes to the vast double-glazed windows and French doors framing bird-attracting gardens, the strides from every seamless social zone are so big, internal doors are pointless. The master wing turns in for serene solitude, lofty ensuite views, his and hers walk in robes, and gardens framed by external French doors; your guests at the home's far end also indulge in garden access, a dressing room and ensuite luxe. For the car collector, the 6-car garage outperforms, for the wine connoisseur, your largest collections are securely cellared, and for the farmer at heart, the 3-bay high clearance shedding gives you infinite tinkering room. Inspired family living exploits the home's radiant north-facing rear aspect, the BBQ terrace toasts to quiet elevation, and the quadrangle – an elegant nod to foliage and privacy – retreats to firepit and water feature ambience. Skirting the city, greater hills, and famed Stirling Village, this is magnificence unmatched, even by Milan Terrace standards.
