Originally part of Hazelmere, the suburb of Bushmead (6055) represents a new chapter for this very special area. The community of Bushmead has fast emerged as one of Perth's most environmentally sustainable, and forward-thinking communities. When planning the brand new Bushmead community, Cedar Woods recognised the suburb of Hazelmere had strong industrial connotations. With the development set to be urban infill amongst a natural bush setting, far removed from the industrial environment of Hazelmere, Cedar Woods lobbied with local councils and government to rename the site Bushmead, a name more aligned to the vision of the leafy suburb we know today.
