Here is a fantastic option for those buyers looking at options in the market. A great house to get dirty and do some of the hard work but transform this gem into a masterpiece. Positioned perfectly on the block a facelift with room to add more is certainly on offer. For those looking to renovate to live in or to invest in you have a great platform to work with also.3 generous sized bedrooms, timber floors throughout that just need the bare essential tidy up. A large lounge room at the front with a separate kitchen, toilet and laundry. The bathroom was modernized a few years ago and still quite functional. Carport off the side of the house and still plenty of grass around the front and back compliment the space on offer. Sitting East of Oxley this little gem is just waiting for its next makeover.Its getting harder to find land these days on the Peninsula and renovating older homes is certainly something we are seeing a lot more of. This could be the one you are looking for.
