On the Eyre Peninsula, between the iconic town of Port Lincoln and the port town of Whyalla, is Cowell. This is a beachside town, with the same amazing beaches and ocean lifestyle at a fraction of the price of Port Lincoln or Coffin Bay. This block has just come on the market, it is 1454m² and flat and ready to build on. Subject to planning approval, you could build a holiday house, forever home, or just land bank the investment and watch it's value grow. This is a great size block of land, in a small town, coastal township. Looking for a sea change, or lifestyle change, don't miss out on this opportunity, it won't last long. A great base to explore and experience what the Eyre Peninsula has to offer. Close to the large regional centres that have all the amenities you will need.
