When this conveniently situated property was custom-designed and established in 2012, it may just have been ahead of its time, as it looks and feels just as relevant, in-vogue and contemporary as some only completed in recent years. And that, along with being close to family parks and amenities, is why there is a good chance it will not be on the market for long. The rendered exterior walls and high skillion roof and well-presented grounds enhance the property's overall street appeal. The property offers the bonus of a workshop, wide gated access for a caravan or boat, and a spacious and private, sunny aspect and low-upkeep yard. Natural light filters through most areas of the home, which exudes a tremendous family-friendly yet subtle sophisticated edge throughout. The sunlit and expansive high skillion ceiling living and long table dining zone and substantial bulkhead ceiling kitchen are eye-catching and the ambiance is wonderful. Banks of standard & skylight windows harness the warmth and light. Let the good times flow from this beautiful hub out onto the alfresco deck featuring a barbeque nook. All the bedrooms, including the master suite are far bigger than standard, with the front master also offering spacious walk-thru robes to the upscale twin showerhead ensuite with separate toilet. The family wing is well away from the busy hub and has fabulous bedroom, hall and laundry storage and stylish, functional wet areas. This is a wide appeal property set to attract lots of interest.
