Perched directly above the ancient source of the Mooloolah River and enveloped by the lushest of green canopies, Hidden Valley immediately connects you to nature in a way that you may have never experienced before. Spread over close to nine acres and comprising a main house, caretaker's retreat, shed/theatre and numerous other structures that once formed part of this truly exotic retreat, the property represent the ultimate opportunity for anyone wanting to not only claim there very own piece of the Hinterland's phenomenal natural beauty, but also, the chance to bring this iconic property back to life. So whether you could envisage recreating an enchanting spiritual retreat or you'd simply like to create your own personal hideaway, Hidden Valley is your chance to create a once-in-a-lifetime home. At just 25 minutes from the coast and with solar, internet, substantial water storage and connection to town-power, all the critical infrastructure is in place for you to commence this project today.
