This quaint cottage home combines the federation style décor of the original cottage along with the added space that was introduced with the previous renovation. A four bedroom layout with an added sitting lounge or study, along with an open plan kitchen and dining area that leads out to the entertaining space. Pleasing to the eye are the added features such as the timber floorboards, daddo's, ornate fireplace, verandah and established cottage gardens. The spacious kitchen has ample benchspace for the cook in the family and enjoys the light that flows into the room. The entertaining zone merges off the lovely verandah and takes in the views of the rear yard, that also leads to the shed. This property is perfect for the home buyer looking for features from a bygone era with the addition of some more modern day décor.
