$395,000 - $425,000

This is a true X factor apartment. Neutral toning, floorboards throughout the living and an integrated kitchen, dining and lounge area means this home not only flows but simply feels great. Upon entry the open plan design is impressive and draws you into the space that has excellent storage, a study nook and an expanse of glass sliding doors leading you to the outdoor entertaining deck. This area is north facing soaking in the natural light and winter sun but is also covered for the hot days ahead. Quietly positioned at the back of the complex means your rear outlook is towards tree canopies and also provides easy access to the common outdoor area perfect for larger get-togethers or simply relaxing in the sun. The secure downstairs parking for the car also has some storage room. This immaculate apartment would make the perfect first home, classic investment at $350 per week or even a Geelong base for the one that travels a lot. Hard to fault, ideal to make your own.
