Lots of light and a great lifestyle lead the list of attributes that make this first floor apartment such an attractive opportunity as an entry level address or as an investment in Melbourne's booming inner west. The timber flooring and beautiful brightness of the living space are complemented by the sunny outdoor space of a balcony while a separate kitchen/meals area reveals generous proportions, and an appealing modern feel. Two double bedrooms that share an updated central bathroom further enhance an apartment that will ensure first home buyer enjoyment or deliver reliable rental returns. One of only ten, an allocated car space puts a perfect finishing touch to a property that's all about starting in style conveniently close to all the shopping choices of Altona Gate, Borracock Square and Millers Junction.
