Homes are only ever new once – so capturing this freshly finished, light-filled contemporary property is the kind of exceptional opportunity that can never be repeated! Beautifully designed to make the most of amazing views towards majestic Mount Stronach from its enticing elevated cul-de-sac setting, the spaces convey the quality that has defined this project from its commencement to its completion. A living room of instantly appealing size enjoys its own zone, entirely separate from a generous dining area accompanied by an open-plan kitchen featuring café windows, high end appliances, a casual meals island/breakfast bar and an abundance of stylish cabinetry. Both the living and the dining zones open to a central deck that's covered to create a private, all season outdoor entertaining area while an open air counterpart brings the brilliant views into even sharper relief. Ideal, inviting three bedroom, two bathroom accommodation includes a main bedroom with a walk-in robe and substantial ensuite that enjoys a wing of its own adjacent to a courtyard retreat while the two further bedrooms, each with a serene, green view, share the spacious family bathroom. Fully insulated from top to bottom, featuring a separate laundry, solar power, double glazed windows, a secure double garage and excellent workshop/storage on the basement level, this home's soon to be erected freshly fenced allotment is within quick, convenient reach of Scottsdale's shopping options, primary and secondary schools and the recreation reserve. Bush walking, the beach at Bridport, wineries, Derby's famed mountain biking and Launceston city each contribute to the lifestyle enjoyment offered by this scintillating new home – a residence that lets you look at country living in a whole new way.
