A peaceful and private haven of effortless style, merely metres from all the charms of Surrey Hills Village, this surprisingly spacious, two bedroom plus study townhouse enjoys a soothing connection to its tranquil outdoor living areas. One of only three in this architecturally curated block, the home is angular in design, framing delightful outlooks of an iconic old peppercorn tree while offering the ability to walk to almost every conceivable amenity. Well designed with a generous pantry, the home's kitchen overlooks a large lounge / dining room with seamless connection to an outdoor living area and garden that is ideal for a relaxing BBQ. Upstairs, an open living area works perfectly as a study / home office, whilst the bedrooms – both with large built-in and / or walk-in robes – highlight the excellent storage options throughout this well considered home. Additional highlights include an internally accessed lock-up garage, a large upstairs terrace, laundry, two bathrooms, a powder room and an external store room as well as split system heating and air conditioning. Aside from its highly regarded café and dining scene, Surrey Hills Village offers wonderful shopping and extensive amenities, whilst city commuting has never been easier than that offered by the recently opened Union Railway Station.
