On the picturesque New Buildings Road Wyndham, sitting pretty in a biodiverse wonderland is this 120 acre parcel of privacy. Possessing the permanency of the Mataganah Creek, 3 expansive dams, power, level house site and ready for your ultimate self sufficient lifestyle. If securing water supply is high on your agenda then you needn't look any further to support any horticultural aspirations. The property currently has a mudbrick and timber style eco getaway that is fit out for you to occupy whilst building your forever home on the centrally positioned level house site. The landscape can't help but captivate the essence of our Australian bushland with an array of native flora and wildlife, not to mention that crisp fresh air only the mountains can offer. Sit back and take it all in from every angle of this property. Create your own nature tracks and immerse yourself into a world of simplicity. So many options to create, yet not so many options like this. Don't delay. Inspect today.
