If you are looking for a great starter home in a quiet location, with all the work done, look no further. The vendors have worked hard to present this large four bedroom home to the market fresh and ready for new owners. As you enter the home from the rear deck you are met with the bright kitchen which is freshly painted and the new kitchen cupboards complete the picture. Polished floors are a feature throughout this home and give a feeling of space. Four bedrooms, lounge, dining kitchen area is just the start to the available living. Two other living rooms allow all kinds of possibilities for families. The bath room boasts a complete shower which will provide a surprise or two. A lovely private rear deck is a highlight of this home, running the full length of the whole house. The northern sun will pour onto this deck on the eastern side during our cold winters and provide cool shade protection in our harsh summers. The property has side access from Andrew Street allowing easy access to the back yard and deck. The block is 1222 m² and has a large area at the rear to build a three or four bay shed. 75 Arthur Street would suit first home buyers, retiree's moving to town or investors.
