This home is opulence personified. When the vendors built this home, it was upgraded on every level. This light and airy entrance with the high ceilings sets the tone for the rest of this amazing abode. A feeling of coming home, kick your shoes off is very evident. This family home has been designed to provide a lifestyle you will soon become accustomed to. A place to entertain family and friends with more than enough room to move. One of the many highlights of living here is watching the Spirit of Tasmania floating by as you enjoy the many changes of Corio Bay, every day the view is different. One day you can clearly see the You Yangs and another day visibility is poor. Welcome to life on the Bellarine Peninsula. Not only can you admire the view as you prepare that casual meal for family and friends. You have the space to entertain in this kitchen, complete with full butler's pantry and cook on the best Smeg appliances. Nothing has been forgotten. Bring yourselves and your furniture and leave your shoes at the front door. Ultimate relaxation. Upstairs open plan living to allow for total inclusion. The Main bedroom is an escape room where you can lock yourself away and soak the days business into oblivion. A large bath in the ensuite sets this house apart from the "Jones" Downstairs are three generous bedrooms with walk in robes, central bathroom and outdoor undercover alfresco. The vendor of this home made sure that there would be adequate storage that many homes lack. A place for everything and everything in its place. Are you thinking something is missing? Such as where can I park my boat and caravan in a safe location? No worries this place has side access with a remote gate to safely store your toys. The animals are not left out either, currently there is a space to keep your dogs secure with access through a doggie door inside. Curlewis is a relatively new suburb that offers everything you need to take care of daily requirements, supermarkets, medical centres, schools, sporting groups plus your preference of lifestyle choices, do you enjoy fishing, golfing, walking, playing sport, dancing? It's all here. Ferries to Docklands from Portarlington or Queenscliff to Sorrento. Step back in time and catch a steam train from Drysdale to Queenscliff. What are you waiting for? Book a private viewing or attend an open for inspection.
