Embrace the 1950s charm with this solid brick home nestled in the picturesque seaside town of Penguin. Boasting quintessential characteristics, this residence offers a serene coastal lifestyle with abundant amenities. Step into a separate lounge with a cosy wood heater, perfect for Tasmania's four seasons. Three generously proportioned bedrooms await, complemented by high ceilings, wide hallways and rich timber floors. The dine-in kitchen with updates, sits conveniently to the 2nd bathroom with the laundry at the rear entry. Central to the home sits a reverse cycle air conditioner, ensuring year-round comfort. Enjoy the perfect east-facing aspect, the all day sun and natural light streaming to the interiors. A sunny west-facing deck, complete with an undercover BBQ area, seamlessly connects indoor and outdoor spaces. Completing the package is a single workshop/storage area, ample off-street parking, and a private backyard, perfect for children and pets. Important updates to the home include roof, gutters, and fascia. Situated on a generous 1161m² approx. parcel of land, the property offers low-maintenance gardens and ample space for potential expansions such as a garage/workshop or the possibilities of a second dwelling (STCA). 78 Ironcliffe Road presents an exceptional opportunity to secure your next home, brimming with possibilities.
