This one will take a bit of hard work, but the outcome could be something truly special. With the sweet front façade hinting at the building's former life as a butchery, the property has many original features to win over renovators with a keen eye. Original brick work, concrete floors, old fireplaces, a good-sized yard and dual access from Bombala Street and Victoria Parade. The property definitely currently has a warehouse feel to it and would also be very suitable as secure storage. Current layout allows for several different rooms that could be bedrooms or living space, basic bathroom and kitchen so the property could also be a base camp for those who wish to explore Delegate and surrounds. Be bold and brave and book an inspection today!
