With its unparalleled location a mere stroll to the beach, this three-bedroom, double-storey beach house offers an enviable coastal lifestyle, whether for a permanent move or simply a holiday weekender. Nestled in the dunes of the Narrows, this home also has alluring glimpses of the waters of Swan Bay from the generous living zones upstairs. Two bedrooms with built-in robes, a family bathroom and utilities are downstairs and the expansive lounge, plus a generously sized separate kitchen/dining area, are upstairs along with a master bedroom with ensuite, walk-in robe and balcony. If mobility is a concern, the built-in lift from the oversized double lock-up garage to the top floor will erase any worries. The northern aspect overlooks the rear yard allowing sunshine to pour in and provide ample natural light and warmth to the home. A balcony off the dining area is a convenient space for a barbecue and a delightful place to enjoy a morning coffee. Reverse-cycle air conditioning in both the lounge and dining complement a gas wall heater and ducted heating throughout. Situated on a quiet no-through-road tucked in behind the dunes, this home is a private oasis amongst established gardens and sheltering trees. Access to the beach is via one of two walking paths at either end of the street – you couldn't get much closer. The location is so good this beach house will not last long on the market.
