Price Guide $650,000 to $700,000

Positioned at the end of a quiet cul-de-sac, with shops, the University and hospital on your doorstep, this low-maintenance, completely level home offers a great package for young families, downsizers and investors after a great long-term investment in this area of growth. Freshly painted and carpeted, the light-filled, open design presents a warm, welcoming feel and will allow you to move in without lifting a finger. On entry, the open plan living area has spacious lounge and dining zones with appealing timber-look floors and both air-conditioning and ceiling fans. The adjoining kitchen is well maintained and has plenty of storage and bench space. This looks out over the fully fenced and totally private backyard, where a small patio area is ideal for alfresco entertaining and the easy-care lawn is just enough space for the kids or pets to run around, whilst also giving the option to lock up and leave without a worry. Back inside there are three double bedrooms that all have built-in-robos. The main bedroom is positioned to the rear of the home, has dual aspect windows to capture the breeze and ensuite access to the cleverly designed and centrally positioned three-way bathroom. Two further bedrooms are also a great size and benefit from brand-new carpet. Another plus of this freestanding, Torrens Title home, which is rarely found in this price range nowadays, is the large double garage with internal access. Priced to sell, this could be your new Happy Ever More. So, make sure you contact the team at HEM for full details or to organise a time to view.
