A well built three bedroom, two bathroom home offering a great option for a family, investor or retiree looking for a functional home on a large allotment with a sizable shed and sought after well proportioned brick home. The home sits on a generous 820sqm allotment and is privately tucked away along Symonds Drive off of Hartman road. The location is ideal with easy access through Mount Barker from Alexandrina and Bald Hills Road. Entry to the home reveals a sizable family area, complete with timber matchboard ceilings, a slow combustion log fire and a split system air-conditioner. Via feature, timber double doors, the space provides direct access leading to the undercover entertaining area and fenced rear yard. The chefs kitchen provides solid timber cabinetry, together with a huge amount of storage and pantry space. The open plan kitchen presents built in electric oven, separate stove top and double sink positioned to overlook the rear yard. There is also ample room for a dining table setting. The well planned home then provides access via the hallway to each of the three bedrooms, the main bathroom, separate toilet and laundry. Each bedroom is of generous proportion and the master presents built in robes and an ensuite bathroom. The completely landscaped allotment with established gardens, presents easy care plant varieties plus various mature fruit tree's. At the rear of the shed there is undercover storage for wood and space for composting. Car enthusiasts and tradies will welcome the huge 9m x 6 shed complete with concrete floor, light and power - or for those keen on golf - this is the ideal storage space for your golf clubs and buggy - being just 600m walk to the Aston Hills Golf Club entrance.
