If you're looking for a lifestyle change then this spectacular farmlet on approx 25 acres could be just what you're looking for. Located just on the outskirts of Nyora the property offers the new owner a private setting with total farmland surrounds. An ideal property for the horse enthusiast or hobby farmer, the property is well fenced and includes ample water supply, dams and tank, plus shedding. The brick home features 4 bedrooms, 2 living areas, kitchen/dining with gas cooking, solid fuel heating and verandah front and back for those family bbq's. Although ready to move into tomorrow, there is work to be done and plenty of room to add your own personal touches. So whether you are looking for a genuine country property to bring your kids up on, room for your animals to roam or you need space to park your trucks and machinery, this property could be for you. To fully appreciate all this property has to offer book an inspection with us today.
