Previously renovated in a manner that respects its original character and ensures it remains entirely capable of meeting current day needs, this home's invitation to enjoy today is matched by its options to enhance tomorrow. The appeal, both present day and in prospect, is apparent throughout spaces that commence with the classic elegance of an arched entrance hall with timber flooring. Three principal bedrooms surrounding a traditional living room are complemented by the flexibility of a fourth bedroom/office while a well-maintained sky-lit bathroom reflects the ongoing serviceability of the spaces. Beyond, a welcoming and freshly presented kitchen/dining area leads to a huge laundry/storage space before the rear garden reveals its verandah retreat and enticing dimensions. Zoned to Williamstown North Primary School and walking distance from Armstrong Reserve, The Pint Of Milk Café and the bay, with Hall Street and Newport station also easily reached, this pristine property brings location, character and further scope together sensationally.
