Hidden from the street behind manicured green hedging, this freestanding c1925 brick bungalow brims with classic-contemporary charm. Fresh updates sit in harmony with the home's beautiful vintage details including leadlight windows and patterned ceilings, with the home opened at the rear for seamless indoor-outdoor flow. On the edge of Rowland Park with bonus rear laneway access via Apsley Avenue, the home is set within a walk of Kingsford's vibrant eat-street, light rail and a host of schools including Daceyville Public, St Michael's and St Spyridon. It's also just a quick drive to Westfield Eastgardens and beaches.

- A sequence of living, dining and social areas ideal for family life
- Gas kitchen with white subway tiling at the heart of the home
- Glass bi-fold doors open to a covered Merbau entertainer's deck
- Tranquil and private garden oasis edged by lush palms and ferns
- Three large bedrooms plus potential garage/loft conversion (STCA)
- Sky-lit bathroom includes bath tub and vintage inspired tapware
- A/C, fans, built-ins, garage includes mezzanine store and laundry
