Central to Castlemaine and Harcourt and close to the picturesque Barkers Creek cricket ground, this untouched paradise of approximately 33 acres would be an ideal weekend escape. Peaceful and private, the undulating block is home to local wildlife, has a dam and enjoys views of the surrounding countryside. A perfect country getaway within easy reach of the area's local attractions and amenities. Zoned Farming, you would require planning permission to construct a dwelling as neighbouring properties have already done. Power is nearby but the block would be ideal for those wanting to embrace self-sustainability with an off grid solar set up. Riellys Road can be accessed via Peelers or Specimen Gully Roads and you are only minutes away from the Calder Highway connecting Melbourne and Bendigo.
