Walk down a parkside path, and set amongst native trees you'll discover a perfectly secluded townhouse. It is so peaceful, but all the South Beach action is just a few minutes' walk away. Coffee, dining, shopping, swimming, cycling – all the attractions of the coastal life, among the parks, public art and winding paths of this lovely neighbourhood. This two-storey townhouse is perfectly positioned, next to open space with no neighbour on the eastern side. With alfresco dining amongst the treed outlook, an internal double-height atrium for a tropical feel, a second living room upstairs, and the master suite opening to a balcony, it's a great layout for an easy low-maintenance home by the beach. Open the timber gate to a private walled courtyard, with outdoor dining under the timber-lined ceiling. Past a stone pillar is the entry to long open-plan living with solid timber floors, and the spacious kitchen has aqua glass splashbacks for the coastal vibe. There's a walk-in pantry and additional storage for the wine collector, plus the glass atrium for indoor greenery. A powder room and laundry are nearby, and internal access to the double garage accessed down a wide lane. Upstairs is another spacious living area with a treed outlook, and from the master suite you can step outside to the balcony under a pitched timber ceiling and enjoy the leafy environment. Two more bedrooms, both with built-in robes with big windows for the northern light, share another bathroom with bath, all in neutral beachy tones. Summer is here, so you can make the beach part of your everyday, dip in to the vibrant South Freo life, and come home to blissful peace and quiet in your own coastal hideaway.
