You often hear about a property with views but this really does have views that are exceptional. To be able to purchase such an affordable home that offers this is a rarity indeed. The home has instant street appeal and is in original condition but presents extremely well both inside and out. There are 4 bedrooms, a lounge with split system air conditioning, separate kitchen and dining area, renovated bathroom and a charming and homely feel throughout. There is great potential to extend the home in future to take full advantage of the amazing rural outlook. The corner block is private and established with a lock up garage for the car. So appealing and so affordable!
