Nestled in the heart of Virginia, is this one of a kind, open air home, designed by the award winning Troppo architects. The main residence showcases an open plan living concept, elegantly complemented by wrap-around elevated timber decks. These decks, along with an abundance of doors and windows, ensure the interior is bathed in natural light while providing tranquil views of the established tropical shade trees that offer a natural canopy and shelter around the property. In the heart of the home the kitchen boasts an impressive marble countertop that is both stylish and functional, catering to both casual family meals and larger gatherings. Further enhancing the unique charm of this residence is the Bali-style bathroom entrance, which features ensuite access to the master bedroom, creating a convenient layout. The home includes two additional loft bedrooms, each adorned with cathedral style ceilings, adding character and a cozy ambiance. Access to the loft bedrooms is facilitated by a striking spiral staircase that leads to a walkway, presenting an architectural focal point that combines form with function. The property's allure extends outdoors with a huge inground saltwater pool, complemented by a timber gazebo that overlooks the pool area-perfect for relaxation or entertaining. Additionally, a wet season billabong, complete with a swing overlooking the water, adds a picturesque element to the expansive grounds. The ongoing project of a Bali house with two bedrooms, elevated with ramp access, and a deck overlooking the dam, offers potential for a guest house or a private retreat, enhancing the versatility of this estate. Supporting structures include a massive shed with plenty of parking that's equipped with water tanks and stables, catering to a variety of lifestyle needs.
