The views from this undulating block would have to be some of the best in this region. Tucked up on the hill in Narrawong, this beautiful piece of land is just perfect for a beautiful new home to be built. There is a current planning permit in place which means this block gets you one step closer to turning those dreams into reality (STCA)! With approx. 10 acres to play with, there is just enough room to create your own lifestyle retreat on the top of the hill and drink those views in on a daily basis.
