This is the one. That dream half acre (2347m²) vacant allotment you've always wanted. The one with far reaching Northern views over rolling countryside. The one with the convenience of all town services including underground power and decorative street lighting. The one that's well positioned, close to schools, sporting facilities and just a short trip into town. The one that offers a spacious new lifestyle with plenty of room to build your dream home in a highly regarded residential estate. The one that simply is better than all the rest.
