

95 Stephen Street, Campbells Creek, Vic 3451

House For Sale

Wednesday, 24 April 2024

95 Stephen Street, Campbells Creek, Vic 3451

Bedrooms: 4

Bathrooms: 2

Parkings: 4

Area: 2 m2

Type: House

Jeremy Bottomley

Andrew Turley
0354721155

Contact Agent

Come home to greatness on this 4 acre parcel of pristine Australian bushland. This unique property, adjacent to protected state forest, will excite anyone with an eye for high style, bespoke design and ultimate privacy. The residence also offers potential to craft a narrative that is uniquely your own. At an amazing 40 squares (approx.) and with multiple living zones over two levels, this beautiful home will allow your family to grow. As will the acreage with a huge dam, primed for a big life of adventure, play and entertainment. At the end of a 200 metre winding driveway, flanked with stately pine trees, the residence presents a commanding facade. Open the front door to a spectacular octagonal foyer with feature pendant lighting and a floor plan that is refreshingly different. Continue the journey and admire vaulted ceilings in the spacious living, dining and kitchen areas. The octagonal kitchen, mirroring the foyer's design, boasts a soaring ceiling height of 6 metres with light-filled cupolas. It stands as an architectural centrepiece, enhancing the home's ambiance of elegance and openness. The master suite, a true parent's retreat, features an ensuite, a vanity alcove and a walk-in double robe beneath a refined dropped ceiling. The children's wing presents an opportunity for independent living, complete with three bedrooms, a bathroom, laundry and separate entry. Currently a generous home office, the upper floor basks in natural light from its vaulted ceilings and takes in sweeping vistas. It offers an exciting opportunity as a self-contained bedroom complete with a private bathroom and living area or as the ultimate work from home or creative space. While the residence is 90 percent complete, this is not a shortfall but a promise of potential - a canvas for creativity. The future custodians have the rare chance to tailor the final fit-out to their tastes, further enhancing the bespoke, Spanish/French-influenced architecture that features soft bull nose corners and gentle texturing throughout. Outside, relish in family bush walks in your very own own backyard. Of note is the aforementioned dam, capable of holding one gigalitre of water in addition to the onsite bore. From this prized and very private location be in the heart of vibrant Castlemaine within 7 minutes. Yes, life could be a dream!