Outstanding ocean views with level access on the plateau – a rare find indeed! Since we already have the attractive prospects of level land to work with, an existing swimming pool & rear lane access, one would have to start thinking of utilising the magnificent air space that you would rightly own when acquiring this humble abode. Let's imagine being perched on the roof, one level up from our lounge/kitchen area and further taking in the extended and uninterrupted views from an increased elevation and ponder.....Therefore the ONLY WAY IS UP (STCA)! This peaceful brick home NOW offers serene picturesque ocean views, ample internal living areas and a spacious level back yard with a pool and covered entertaining area.
