Mother nature does wonders for the mind and soul and this is your opportunity to call this little slice of paradise yours. This magnificent bush block is a sheer 25.5 acres in size and sits at the base of Ragged Jack. Ragged Jack is the neighbouring peak of Ben Lomond which is Tasmania's number one ski village and home of the Ben Lomond National Park. Up here it's nothing but clean mountain air, post-card views, nature and you. The current owner has spent a lot of machine time to make this property totally secure and it's impossible for anyone to gain access unless they have a key. This is the ultimate place to disconnect and immerse yourself in nature and this is the kind of place that makes it very easy to forget the rest of the world even exists. Whether you're into bush walking, horse riding, mountain biking, four-wheel driving, wood cutting, hunting or fishing, this area is renowned as a recreational haven and a hunter's paradise. There's a constant abundance of all types of wildlife and the running stream through the property is loaded with sizable Trout. This property is wide-open to various opportunities, whether it might become your weekend getaway or place to build that home you have always dreamt of (STCA). To really complete the package, it's only half hour to the Evandale Pub, 40 minutes from the Launceston Airport and less than an hour from the Launceston City Centre. Our vendor must sell and we MUST have a contract this month. Please call Harley for more information today
