An oasis in the city's heartland fringe, Calibre is situated in Surry Hills, a sanctuary from the vibrant streetscape, with a view over Sydney's CBD skyline. Light as air, Calibre's undulating glass and timber screened facade sits like a soaring bamboo forest in the streetscape. With thoughtful design and Japanese aesthetic from designer Koichi Takada, 'The Calibre' apartments are Sydney's new luxury address. With Central Station precinct nearby, this is Sydney's new heart of dining, nightlife, shopping and Light Rail links.
