Certainly a solid investment as currently renting at $280.00 per week with a great tenant keen to stay. The unit is tucked away in a cul de sac amongst other similar units and is of brick veneer construction. It has 2 bedrooms and the kitchen adjoins the cosy lounge/dining area with a good-sized air conditioner for year-round comfort. There is a garage under the main roof with roller door access and the backyard has a large shed as well and the yard is ideal for entertaining as a few shrubs and trees to relax under and the front yard is similar with a lawn area and a little picket fence.
