Inner-City Suburban Living with Unparalleled City Skyline Views

Exceptionally positioned on High Street – right in the thick of the action, but just high enough to ensure privacy and epic city skyline views – this cosy two-bedroom apartment in Thornbury’s heart is inner-suburban living at its finest.

From vast windows, to spacious stone benchtops, stainless steel Smeg appliances and dishwasher, the lovely light-filled open-plan kitchen, living and dining area is equipped with slick designer fittings that beautifully transform this space into a home.

The hero of the apartment, though, is the wonderfully sizeable balcony that overlooks Thornbury and out across the inner-city ‘burbs to the spectacular horizon: the city skyline. Whether it’s enjoying your morning cuppa or entertaining family and friends, it’s certain that you’ll be spending an abundance of time revelling in these unparalleled views.

When it’s time to retreat, you’ll find that of the two bedrooms – each with carpeted floors and mirrored built-in robes – one is at the back for ultimate privacy, while the other has enormous windows that open directly onto the balcony (and yes, those incredible views!)

Final touches include linen cupboard and European laundry, split system heating and cooling, intercom, secure car space and storage locker.

Just feet from Thornbury’s vibrant array of cafes, restaurants and shops, as well as trams, trains and parklands, you’ll have everything you need. Like we said, this is unbeatable inner-suburban living.
