

'Bungoona' 106 Free Selectors Road, Foxground, NSW 2534

Sold Lifestyle

Thursday, 16 November 2023

'Bungoona' 106 Free Selectors Road, Foxground, NSW 2534

Bedrooms: 4

Bathrooms: 2

Parkings: 2

Area: 1 m2

Type: Lifestyle

Bernadette Farrell
0400602073

Neil Campbell
0413757899

$2,875,000

A rare opportunity exists to acquire this timeless retreat with open design, alfresco areas and light filled interiors allowing an immediate connection to the surrounding bushland. This well appointed home offers secluded living just 10 minutes to the beaches of the seaside town of Gerringong and 15 minutes to the rural township of Berry, known for its cafes and shopping. Despite its proximity to all this nearby, a private hideaway awaits thanks to the private road entry positioned in a whisper quiet location resting on almost 3 acres. An inspired expression of Architectural Design by Fergus Scott, the home offers it all for those seeking a significant tree/sea change or those looking to escape suburbia for a green getaway oasis. This contemporary home offers breath taking views sweeping across the surrounding landscape towards Coolangatta mountain and the surrounding escarpment, it exudes an understated comfort with all the conveniences. The home boasts three bedrooms all with extensive bush views. Vaulted ceilings throughout the living areas allowing for a bright and airy open plan feel. The large sliding doors and generous use of windows seamlessly blend the minimal interiors with the alfresco large timber entertaining area complete with built in barbeque. Ideal for the entertainer, perfect family dining or the ideal setting for your morning coffee to sit back and watch the native wild life. This property truly offers the best the South Coast has to offer where the rolling green hills meet the sea.